

“Ukraine cannot move forward by treading the old paths: neither those imposed on her by the imperialistic Muscovite regime nor the beaten roads taken by the bourgeois governments of the West. The first path, thank God, has been cut short but we must brace ourselves in order to be protected from its return. For many years to come a variety of forces hostile to our separate state existence will be working on its behalf campaigning either openly under slogans designed to eradicate our national way of life or masquerading under innocent calls for unity of the Russian revolution or an All-Russian democratic federation.”

Mykhailo Hrushevsky,

“Natsia” Na porozi novoji Ukrainy, 1918

The conferens will take place on Saturday, January 20, 2018 at 4:00 PM at The Shevchenko Scientific Society
63 Fourth Ave., New York, NY 10003
(212) 254-5130
shevchenko.org

and
Sunday, January 21, 2018 at 12:30 PM
at The Ukrainian Institut of America
2 East 79 Street, New York, NY 10017
(212) 228-8660
ukrainianinstitute.org

The Shevchenko Scientific Society in America
The Ukrainian Academy of Arts and Sciences in the U.S.
The Ukrainian Institute of America

Announce an international conference in commemoration of

The 100th Anniversary of the Ukrainian Revolution
and the Proclamation of Ukraine's Independence

The Shevchenko Scientific Society in America
The Ukrainian Academy of Arts and Sciences in the U.S.
The Ukrainian Institute of America

announce an international conference in commemoration of

The 100th Anniversary of the Ukrainian Revolution and the Proclamation of Ukraine's Independence

Saturday, January 20, at 4:00 pm
The Shevchenko Scientific Society
63 Fourth Avenue, New York, NY

Sunday, January 21, at 12:30 pm
The Ukrainian Institute of America
2 East 79th Street, New York, NY

The Ukrainian Revolution in Historical Perspective

Chair: Anna Procyk, KBCC of the City University of New York

Vladyslav Verstiuk, National Academy of Sciences of Ukraine: “Вплив революційних подій 1917-1921 рр. на історію України ХХ ст.”

Alexander Lushnycky, University of Minnesota: “Українська революція і українська діаспора Америки”

Zenon Wasyliv, Ithaca College: “Iulian Bachynskyi: Ukrainian Independence, the United States, and Transnational Discourse”

Discussant: Serhy Yekelchyk, University of Victoria

Political Aspects of the Ukrainian Revolution

Chair: Martha Bohachevsky-Chomiak, Fulbright Program

Anna Procyk, KBCC of the City University of New York: “Policies and Tactics of ‘White Russia’ toward the Ukrainian Central Rada and Its Successors”

Serhy Yekelchyk, University of Victoria: “A Soldier of Three Armies: Yurko Tiutiunyk as a Symbol of the Ukrainian Revolution”

Alexander Motyl, Rutgers University: “Ukrainian Statebuilding in Comparative Perspective”

Henry Abramson, Touro College: “Should We Tear Down Statues of Khmelnytskyi and Petliura? Contemporary Reflections on Conflicting Visions of National Heroism and Villainy”

Discussant: Lubomyr Hajda, Harvard University

Cultural Aspects of the Ukrainian Revolution

Chair: Myroslava Znayenko, Rutgers University

Tamara Hundorova, National Academy of Sciences of Ukraine: “The Nation as Aesthetics: Modernism and Nationalism of ‘Ukrains’ka khata”

George Grabowicz, Harvard University: “Pavlo Tychyna, the Revolution, and Modernism: the Case of Instead of Sonnets and Octaves”

Valentyna Kharkhun, Mykola Gogol State University: “Between Two Powers: Nationalist vs. Bolshevik in Volodymyr Vynnychenko’s Works about the Ukrainian Revolution”

Discussant: Halyna Hryn, Harvard University

7:00 pm

Concert: Vira Slywotzky, soprano

Reception at the Shevchenko Scientific Society

2:30 – 3:30 pm:
Luncheon at the Ukrainian Institute

Reception at the Ukrainian Institute